Hoodoo Recreation Services | SISTERS
skihoodoo.com

Whether you schuss, shred, slalom, slide, or snowplow, there's no better way to explore Oregon's winter wonderland than cutting through fresh powder. Located at the summit of the Santiam Pass, Hoodoo is one of the Cascade's most popular ski spots with 800 acres of terrain, including 34 runs, five lifts, and one of the largest tubing parks in the West.

Come along with us on a perfect day in Oregon.

We'll start with a predawn soak in a steamy desert hot spring, followed by a sunrise trek on snowy Cascade trails. We can catch wind in the Columbia River Gorge before lunch; tour a brewery, pick a pint of berries, or soak up local history in the afternoon; and end our day with roasted marshmallows and campfire songs at the coast.

As Oregonians, we're lucky to live in one of the most beautiful places on Earth. And the secret (if it ever was one) is out.

Nearly 30 million people visit Oregon each year. The travel industry employs more than 112,000 people and pumps nearly $12 billion into the state economy. And it isn't just Oregon cities that benefit. In rural counties, tourism rivals agriculture and logging as one of the top three export-oriented industries.*

In our 2019 calendar, we're highlighting some of the businesses, employees, and volunteers who make Oregon a great place to travel, work, and live. We hope you'll be inspired to get out, start exploring, and plan your own perfect Oregon day.

Pacific Crest Trail Association | MEDFORD
pcta.org

Celebrating its 50th anniversary as a National Scenic Trail in 2018, the PCT stretches for 2,650 miles from Mexico to Canada, including 454 miles in Oregon. More than 1,500 volunteers maintain trails, educate the public, and partner with the Forest Service and other land managers to preserve this legendary corridor popular with through-hikers and day trippers alike.

Jerry's Rogue Jets | GOLD BEACH
roguejets.com

Take a heart-pumping ride up the federally designated "wild and scenic" Rogue River in a boat that also delivers the mail to the historic mining town of Agness, Oregon—just as they did in 1895. The difference? Today's nature-based adventure takes 4½ hours instead of four days, and provides plenty of thrills for all ages.

Founding fathers, unnamed Chinese laborers, a notorious murderess, Shanghai captain, and famous French courtesan—these are just a few of the 30,000 dearly departed souls who reside at Portland's Lone Fir Cemetery. One of 14 historic cemeteries managed by Metro, the regional planning organization, Lone Fir is a great place to explore Oregon's pioneer past, watch a theater performance, or just wander among the trees and tombstones.

deschutesbrewery.com

Dubbed "Beer Town USA," Bend boasts more breweries per capita than any other Oregon city. And in a state that ranks third in the nation, with 7.4 craft breweries per 100,000 residents, that's saying something. A tour of Bend's Ale Trail wouldn't be complete without a stop at Deschutes Brewery, the city's original brewpub. Founded in 1988, and still owned by employees and family, Deschutes prides itself on high quality, extraordinary experiences, and community giving.
